WELCOME & HOW TO USE THIS LIBRARY

I built this prompt library during the World Cup 2026 buzz because I noticed something: creators with zero football knowledge were struggling to join conversations that could change their channels forever. FIFA and TikTok's new partnership means the algorithm is actively promoting football content for six weeks straight. YouTube's first-ever FIFA deal opens similar doors. But most creators don't know how to capitalize without spending months learning formations and transfer histories.

These 50 prompts solve that problem. I tested each one across ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini, and Mistral to ensure they produce publishable scripts regardless of your football expertise. You feed the AI basic information - team names, match results, trending player names - and get back structured content ready for TikTok, Reels, or Shorts. No research required.

The prompts use a simple [BRACKET_VARIABLE] system. When you see text in [ALL_CAPS_BRACKETS], replace it with your specific information. [TEAM_NAME] becomes "Brazil". [MATCH_RESULT] becomes "2-1 victory". [TRENDING_PLAYER] becomes "Kylian Mbappé". Everything else stays exactly as written.

Each prompt ends with a specific output format - bulleted scripts, hook-and-payoff structures, or timestamped talking points. This ensures your AI gives you content shaped for short-form video, not rambling paragraphs you'd need to restructure anyway.

CATEGORY 1: MATCH PREVIEW SCRIPTS

02

These prompts help you create anticipation-building content before big World Cup matches. I designed them for creators who want to hook viewers with match predictions, tactical breakdowns, and storylines without needing deep football expertise.

PROMPT #1: UNDERDOG STORY BUILDER

THE PROMPT

You are a sports storyteller creating viral short-form content. I need a 60-second script about [UNDERDOG_TEAM] facing [FAVORITE_TEAM] in the World Cup. Focus on the underdog's journey, key players to watch, and why an upset is possible. Include 3 specific talking points that casual fans can repeat to sound knowledgeable. Structure as: Hook (10 seconds), backstory (25 seconds), key matchup (15 seconds), bold prediction (10 seconds). Return as a numbered script with timing markers and suggested visual cues.

When to use it: When a clear underdog faces a tournament favorite and you want to build excitement around the David vs. Goliath narrative.

Customize it: Swap the team names and adjust the timing for different platform limits (30 seconds for TikTok, 90 seconds for YouTube Shorts).

PROMPT #2: TACTICAL MATCHUP SIMPLIFIER

THE PROMPT

You are a football tactics expert who explains complex strategies in simple terms for social media. Create a 45-second script breaking down the tactical battle between [TEAM_A] and [TEAM_B]. Focus on one key tactical element (formation, pressing style, or attacking pattern) that will decide the match. Use analogies that non-football fans understand and include 2 visual elements I can show on screen. End with a prediction based on this tactical analysis. Return as a conversational script with [VISUAL CUE] markers.

When to use it: When you want to sound tactical and informed but your audience includes casual viewers who don't know football formations.
